Journalism experience

Undergraduate student at City University 2017- Present

- Published and translated for the online magazine “Montura” a one-to-one interview with Maurizio Doro, an athlete who biked in extreme conditions around the world. First posted it on my blog in English and then translated it to Italian to publish it.
- Explored and improved different styles of writing through a Creative Writing module.
- To respect all the tight deadlines for news articles and audio and video packages, I developed a better and more efficient way of working and being extremely organised.
- Researched and made presentations on topics and issues of current interest and also worked for podcasts and TV programs, through which I have also gained experience in journalistic team-work.
- Student representative for the first year in the Journalism course. Being the voice of students in front of lecturers helped me become more responsible and learn new leadership skills.

Student at Omaha Central high school 2015-2016

- Published article on a teenager refugee from Nepal in the high school newspaper and worked with the editorial team.
- Wrote articles on actuality matters, opinion pieces and one to one interviews.
- Learned photo-journalism skills and applied them while reporting for school.

Skills

Languages

English (fluent), Italian (fluent), Spanish (intermediate, communicative).

IT

MS Word, MS Office, MS Excel, Adobe Audition, Adobe Premier Pro, iMovie.

Other experiences

- Developed problem-solving and presentation skills involving marketing as a member of the Decathlon Club.
- Member of the cheerleading team, which strengthened my skills in competitive team-work and has taught me a new style of responsibility.
